Aruba Art Fair 2019

Art fashion 2019 has officially been launched at Fusion Restaurant, by Aruba Art Fair organizer, Tito Bolivar, surrounded by fashion designers and fashion models. This year on November 20, 2019, in the Promenade of San Nicolas the fashion show will be presented, including several social problems that world wide are taking place. This is being described as "Breaking the Silence". The designers of the clothing to be shown are local and from abroad, assisting about 500 participants. At the launching of Art Fashion 2019, the local designers Erika Moran and Marlon Dubero were present. Present were also the fashion models Vanessa Leer and Misol Upegi. Hylianne Croes and Leonardo Philips will be hosting Art Fashion 2019. And there will be a Pup up Gallery where art fashion clothing will be available for sale. And there will be an after party. Later on will announce where tickets area available, and what the price is of the tickets. All in All, we are on the way to another brilliant Art Fashion 2019. See you on 20, November, 2019, at the Promenade of San Nicolas for the fourth edition of Art Fashion. Designers who are willing to participate at Art Fashion can sign in at artfashionaruba.com. And those who are interested in being a fashion model, there fore will be a casting Saturday October, 19, at Penha, starting at 6 PM.

San Nicolas Complaining Street Lights Not Working

Habitants of San Nicolas are tired of the lack of attention of the basic things like working street lights in different areas making it unsafe to walk, as cars can't even see the streets imagine someone trying to cross over. Habitants made calls complaining about the lights, but like always it looks like we are on the bottom of the priority list once again.

Even our bus stop signs are due for a good maintenance.

Anyone visiting in San Nicolas that have to travel with the bus have no way of knowing what time to expect a bus making it wurst how long they have to stand in the sun as there is no shade.

San Nicolas Venders Upset With Aruba Art Fair

We have received a few calls from well knows San Nicolas venders complaining that they are being pushed out of the Aruba Art Fair, by jacking up the vending price to an amount, that they could not make back much less make a little interest with their arts and crafts, they expressed that this was not the case in the beginning, but as this event grows so did their price. We do hope they can come to an understanding as this event is in San Nicolas and to not have those familiar San Nicolas venders would not be a good look.

Francio Guadeloupe:

Thank you "Vereniging Antilliaans Netwerk" for the excellency award last night (part of the Black Achievement Month celebration). Drs. Jorien Wuite, as the Minister plenipotentiary of Sint Maarten, you gave such a warm speech. John Leerdam, Rose Bulo, and Jaap Swart this much appreciated. J.C, Giolo awesome to share the stage with you and your group! Tonight at 20:00 hours in the Balie in Amsterdam we continue the conversation on Afro-Europeanness
